FBI - WASH. F. O.

Washington, D.C.
November 24, 1975

On Saturday morning at about 11:30 A.M. on November 22, 1975, a small group of about 40 to 45 persons began to gather on the east side of the U.S. Capitol in Washington, D.C. Placards and signs were in evidence to indicate the participants to be from the DC Student Coalition to End Racism. Other signs indicated favoring no tuition hikes, no cut-backs in education, desegregate in Boston and the like. One sign indicated support from the Socialist Workers Party.

The group began to march in a circle at the base of the Capitol steps chanting slogans. Several speakers spoke on the educational system, schools and anti-busing. These were introduced by a white female, an Ms Singer (phonetic) who indicated she was with the Coalition.

One of the speakers was a black female, a Joan Carrington (phonetic) from the Landover area, who spoke of her husband's involvement with the police and police brutality.

The group began to disband around 1:15 P.M. and the affair ended with-out incident or arrests being observed.
